

REMARKS

By this Amendment, claims 1-6 and 10-15 are pending. The claims have been rejected under 35 USC 112, first paragraph as the Examiner states the specification does not enable the claims. The Examiner states that the disclosure does not support the claimed materials where the amounts are not given and the composition is not limited to that disclosed in the specification. The Examiner also finds that the term "bulk material" is indefinite.

By this Amendment, the subject matter of the original claims has been inserted into the Specification. There is no new matter since the material added to the Specification finds antecedent basis in the original claims.

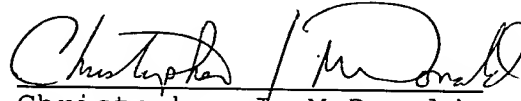

The Examiner finds the term "bulk material" to be indefinite. However, as stated in the Specification at page 2, lines 24-25, "The bulk material of the liquid dispersion medium is liquid paraffin." In other words, the liquid paraffin is a bulk material.

The Examiner is correct and the applicant admits that the claims are broader than the exact composition of the preferred embodiment. However, there is no requirement that claims be limited to the exact embodiment including all amounts of each component. Applicant has the right to claim the invention broader than what is exactly disclosed. Under the conditions of the Examiner, any patent would only have one claim, specifically reciting the exact amount of each component of a composition. This is not required and is not the case as many patents issue with claims that are not limited to the exact proportion of each component.

With this amendment, all rejections have been overcome and no new matter has been added. The claims are allowable and favorable action is eagerly and earnestly solicited. If any issues remain, and the Examiner believes a telephone conversation would resolve such issues, the Examiner is urged to contact the undersigned attorney.

No fees are due and owing. If any additional fees are due and owing, the Commissioner is authorized to charge Deposit Account 08-2455.

Respectfully submitted,
